Bookmark Festival

21–29 April

Alastair Campbell will kick start this year's festival which is packed full with a variety of inspiring speakers, authors, workshops and performances for all ages. Highlights include an evening with Guardian columnist Erwin James and murder mystery maestros, Highly Suspect as they return with their Harry Potter themed evening. You can meet children's favourites Nick Sharratt (Shark in the Park) and CBBC's Katie Thistleton and explore the Moon in an interactive theatrical adventure for families. There is even a chance to have cream tea in the park and discuss all things Jane Austen.

Changes to eBooks and eAudiobooks

We are pleased to announce that we have a new eBook and eAudiobook service coming soon.

You can continue to enjoy our current collections of eBooks and downloadable audio books until midnight on 31 March and anything you have on loan up to that date will be available for three weeks.

The new service will be available soon, and will offer a bigger and better eBook and eAudiobook download service in partnership with Greater Manchester Libraries and Borrowbox.
